DETAILED ACTION

This application is 371 filing of PCT/FR04/02667, filed 10/19/2004, which claims benefit to foreign applications 0312390 filed 10/23/2003 and 0405276 filed 05/14/2004, both in France.

The amendment filed 04/21/2006 has been received and entered. Claims 1-22 have been canceled. Claims 23-46 have been entered.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I claim(s) 23-39 drawn to a compound set forth in formula III.

Group II, claim(s) 40-46, drawn to a nano-particle comprising the compound of formula I (as set forth in claim 25).

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the inventive concept of the products encompassed by formula III is not required for use in the nano-particle of group II. The claims encompass a different range of products and potential intended uses. Moreover, the two groups as a whole encompass two distinct and unique products. There is no unique inventive concept that links these two claimed products.

MPEP 1893.03(d) states:

If an examiner (1) determines that the claims lack unity of invention and (2) requires election of a single invention, when all of the claims drawn to the elected invention are allowable (i.e., meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112), the nonelected invention(s) should be considered for rejoinder. Any nonelected product claim that requires all the limitations of an allowable product claim, and any nonelected process claim that requires all the limitations of an allowable process claim, should be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04 and § 821.04(a). Any nonelected processes of making and/or using an allowable product should be considered for rejoinder following the practice set forth in MPEP § 821

Species restriction

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

The compound claimed sets forth multiple species of groups for the formula variables.

More specifically, if either Group I or II is elected, a specific election of species defining each:

1. R;

2. R3;

3. W;

4. Y;

5. m as an integer; then each of the respective species encompassed by:

A. R1;

B. R2, Z and the integers of x and y;

must be clearly set forth such that one species of compound is elected.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Only claims 29, 34 and 38 sets forth a specific species, all other claims are generic as they do not completely define a single species such that one compound is encompassed by the claims.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each of the species results in a unique compound with unique chemical properties with unique uses and limitations that do not extend one to the other. The substitution of one variable to another is not necessarily an obvious substitution that results in a compound of equivalent properties. For example the solubility properties of the substitution of R are greatly influenced by the length of C4-C24 and the fluorination or thioalkylation.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
